I rush out to grab a smoke. My hands are still wet with disinfectants.
Over the smoke I see the hospital where the man had just died.
This place is so white, it's as though the snow is attempting to erase everything.
My father is the director of the hospital.
EMERGENCY
So it wasn't difficult for me to get a job here.
I didn't want to be a nurse.
It was purely my father's decision.

"5 suicide attempts."
"A suicidal person."
"Suicidal tendencies."
People call me many things.
My father thought becoming a nurse and saving people would change my view of the world.
Resulting in...
Scalpel
...Nothing.

I took another puff and dragged the cigarette across the hospital wall.
flick
thud
I want to escape from here.
I spend my time looking through charts at the reception desk.
It's not fun but I can't complain.
The internal medicine is on the right. The clinic at the end of the corridor.
INFORMAT
Nurse Kim
The head nurse starts her lecture.
She always looks at me with dissatisfaction and tries to smell me
Her nagging starts again
Are you listening to me?
Did you smoke again? Didn't I tell you not to smoke at the hospital?
Do I really have to talk to you about this?
Urology is located on the 3rd floor.
I just want to escape from this place.

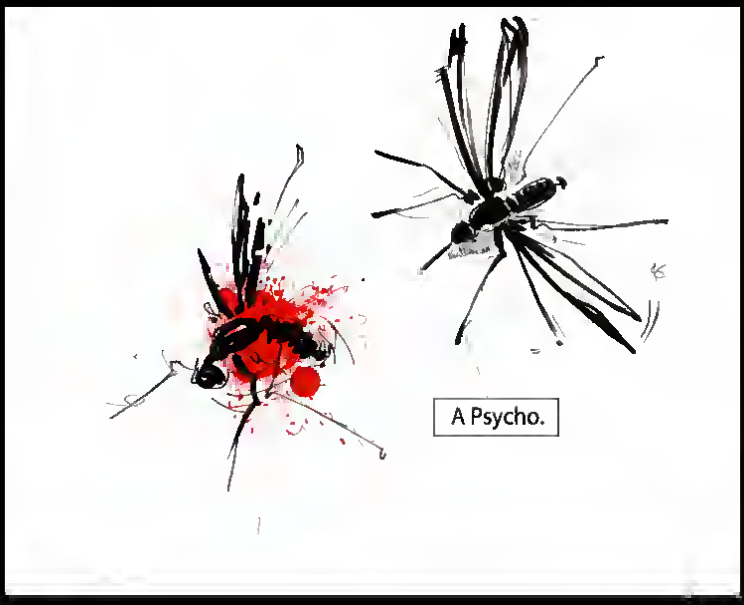
If I think about it, it wouldn't get any better even if I did run away from here.
I don't even bother finding a better place.
Because I already know that there isn't one.
Realizing this, I shut myself out of my surroundings and don't think about it.

Just because your father is the director here doesn't mean you can ignore me
Um, excuse me?
INFORMATION

Where is the operating room?
Go up to the 2nd floor on the opposite side. Are you hurt?
No it's not that I'm hurt...
Then, please fill out this form for pre-surgical screening.
I don't want pre-surgical screening.
I start to get annoyed. I send him a sharp stare.
What is it then?

Uh, Actually...
I want you to cut off my arm

Please, cut my arm off.



I called security immediately.
